

Montgomery Historical Society
P.O. Box 47 Montgomery, VT 05470
pratthall@gmail.com
www.montgomeryvt.us/mhs.htm

A Short History of Montgomery's Village Greens

The Town common, or green, dates to the middle ages Europe. It was generally common land in a central location used for grazing animals and for community gatherings or events, including stocks and pillory, and signposts for public announcements (hence posting the Warning). Most in the United States are found in New England and many became the sites of veteran memorials in the wake of the horrific casualties of the Civil War.

Montgomery's Town Charter did not set out any common lands, although land was reserved for the benefit of the clergy, and county and town schools.

Montgomery did have at least two of these greens or commons, one in the Village and the other in the Center both defined by road intersections.

View of the Center from area of Baptist Church circa 1880 .
Common and gazebo / bandstand on the lower far right.

The Center common was located at the east end of today's Main Street just to the North of the Baptist Church (at the bottom of Route 242). It probably included part of the lot where Sylvester's Market is now located. It's predominant feature was probably a platform or gazebo which the roads passed on all sides. This common was eventually eaten up by the expanded need for road space. The increasing ease of traveling between the Village and the Center also eventually made it redundant.

The triangular Village common was also defined by the main road and side streets. A photo from about 1870 (above) shows a treeless area. But by the turn of the century trees were maturing and it was seeing use for recreation (croquet, baseball) and as a place for gatherings. Memorial Day parades regularly originated from each common and proceeded to local cemeteries.

Village Green on left circa 1890

Village Green looking towards Pratt Hall (behind tree on left) from the Methodist Church

Village Green on right viewed from Fuller Bridge

Croquet Players on Village Green

Civil War, Spanish American War, and WWI vets on Village Green in circa 1918

Winter circa 1920

On Nov 11th 1990 a triangular veteran's memorial was erected on the Village Green. The effort was organized by Lois Lumbra with help from Arthur St Onge and Melvin Chaffee.

In 2005 the Covered Bridges Garden Club's Historic Garden Project, led by Alison Osbourne added garden and landscape features. The Project was designed to enhance the fact that the Village Green is triangles within triangles, within triangles. To emphasize symmetry, five flower beds were located around the elms, crabapples and maple trees. A sixth bed which surrounds the memorial is in the shape of a triangle and has brightly colored shrubs. Lighting was also added for the large maples, monument, and flag.

Village Green from top of Pratt Hall tower, May 2005

Compiled from:

History of Town Commons – Wikipedia

Montgomery, Vermont: A History Of A Town” by William Branthoover and Sara Taylor

Covered Bridges Garden Club website, Historic Garden Project

Montgomery Historical Society Archives